Our COVID-19 Impact By Numbers

Even during the COVID-19 pandemic, KACS has been opened Monday to Friday to provide vital services and programs to one of the most vulnerable populations in our community. Our commitment is to assist our seniors and low-income families in ensuring their safety and wellbeing. Down below is our impact report from 2020 to the current day.

OUR NEEDS

In March 2022, KACS has to relocate due to the lease expiration of the building. Without your support for the security of our building fund, 2,000 vulnerable Korean American seniors and low-income families will lose their access to critical services they need, including health insurance, food security, housing, and more.

Please help us succeed in our plan to continue our services by contributing to the security of a new location. This new location will allow our Korean American community to get accessible essential programs as well as create a space to be together for more than 40,000 Korean Americans in Silicon Valley.
